CAREER SUMMARY:

I am a trilingual and highly motivated recent bachelor's degree recipient with more than 10 years of experience working in a team in different industries in different countries looking to kickstart my career in Web Development.

During my course, the design and development of an app was very interesting and I found myself having fun doing it. Interested in further developing my JavaScript and React skills to create even better projects. Currently located in Southampton, UK but willing to relocate as necessary.

Looking to kick start my career in Web Dev.
